

I. VIDAKIS C.V.

Dr. Ioannis Vidakis was born at Piraeus in 1962. He is a graduate of the Department of Economics, University of Athens and of the Department of International, European and Area Studies, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences. He is Commodore HN (S.C) ret., having served on warships and naval agencies, at logistics positions. During his career, he received MA in Economics, Athens University of Economics, MSc in Management Studies Industrial Systems, University of Piraeus and the Athens Polytechnic. He has a PhD from the Department of Shipping, Trade & Transport, University of the Aegean, in the field of Energy Security. He is the director of the Center of Defense, Energy and Geopolitical Research (CEDEG), member of the administrative committee of the Center of Strategic Studies (CSS) and coordinator of CSS unit "Unit of German Studies - UGES".

J. KARKAZIS C.V.

Dr. John Karkazis is Professor Emeritus of the University of the Aegean. He was born in Athens in 1951. He is graduate of the Department of Mathematics, University of Athens. He has a Ph.D. in Operational Research from the University of Liverpool. He served as Associate Professor in the Economic University of Athens and as Professor in the University of the Aegean. He is the founder and president of Constantine Porphyrogenetus International Association, president of the Institute of Middle East Studies "al Mamun" (IMSAM), director of the Center of Strategic Studies (CSS) and coordinator, jointly with Prof. T. Sepetcioglu (Aydin University, Turkey), of its unit "Unit of Turkish and Ottoman Studies "al Farabi" - UTOS". He is also a member of the Center of Defense, Energy and Geopolitical Research (CEDEG).